Welcome

Welcome to La Frontera Center. We are here to help you identify and achieve your treatment goals. We encourage you to ask any questions you might have, and to take full advantage of the services La Frontera offers.

What is La Frontera?

La Frontera is a nonprofit behavioral health center that provides a full range of mental health and substance abuse treatment services to residents of Tucson and Pima County, Arizona. Each year, approximately 17,000 people receive some type of service.

What services does La Frontera provide?

La Frontera provides services to children, adolescents, and their families; to adults with mental health and/or addiction disorders; and to adults with serious mental illness. Services vary in type and level of intensity, depending on a person's needs. Education and prevention services are also available.

How do I obtain services at La Frontera?

La Frontera has several facilities located throughout Tucson and surrounding areas of Pima County, with agency headquarters in South Tucson. To obtain services at La Frontera, call one of the following sites:

Services for adults and children who live in greater metropolitan Tucson are available at La Frontera Center/South Tucson; please call (520) 884-9920.

Services for adults who live on Tucson's east side or in eastern Pima County are available at La Frontera Center/East; please call (520) 296-3296.

Services for children who live on Tucson's west side are available at La Frontera Center/Grant Road Clinic; please call (520) 206-8600.

Appointments can also be arranged in person or by writing to the Intake Department at

La Frontera Center, Inc./South Tucson 502 W. 29th Street Tucson, Arizona 85713

Appointments are available Monday through Friday at all of the above sites

For crisis services outside scheduled clinic hours, call the Crisis Response Network (CRN) at (520) 622-6000 or 1-800-796-6762.

Where can I find a floor plan of the premises?

Every site has an evacuation plan posted in the lobby and/or major hallways that provides information regarding the location of restrooms, exits, and other relevant areas. Restrooms and exits may also be located by looking for directional and/or lighted signs.

How much do services cost at La Frontera?

The cost of services at La Frontera is determined by several factors, including the type of service requested, the individual's income and the number of dependents, insurance coverage, and eligibility for governmental assistance, among others. Relying on numerous funding sources, La Frontera makes every effort to provide affordable services to its clientele. The agency accepts individuals enrolled in AHCCCS and some other insurance plans. Co-pays, when applicable, vary according to the client's benefit plan. For individuals who have no insurance coverage and do not qualify for AHCCCS, La Frontera offers a sliding fee scale based on the ability of the individual to pay for services.

NOTE: Service eligibility is determined by the funding source. Not every individual is eligible to receive every service.

Are La Frontera's services confidential?

All services and written information at La Frontera are confidential as mandated by federal and state laws and HIPAA regulations. Protected health information will not be released without the client's written consent, except under the following circumstances:

- Information from medical records is requested through a valid court order or subpoena naming a specific individual.
- Child abuse or adult abuse is identified or suspected.
- The client is in a state of medical emergency that necessitates disclosure of information to medical personnel.
- If the client threatens to harm someone, the intended victim and the police will be notified.

Please be aware that clinical staff may listen to information about you volunteered by an outside source; however, information about you will not be shared with that source unless you have signed a release permitting disclosure.

Additional information regarding confidentiality issues may be obtained by calling (520) 429-4300.

What rights do I have to receive services?

Services at La Frontera are available without regard to age, sex, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, race, creed, color, ancestry, national origin, disability, familial status, or marital status. Individuals who are enrolled in the Community Partnership of Southern Arizona (CPSA) service network, however, may be assigned to a different service provider. Each individual has the right to request or refuse treatment to the extent provided by law. The right to treatment is not absolute, and under some circumstances it may be in the best interest of the client and the agency if the client is referred elsewhere. A complete copy of La Frontera's policy regarding client rights is posted in all facility waiting areas.

What responsibilities do I have?

While receiving services at a La Frontera facility, clients are responsible for

- Providing information necessary to complete an appropriate clinical and financial assessment and to ensure proper treatment
- Working with a recovery team to develop an individual recovery plan and following the agreed-upon course of action

- Signing releases and other paperwork necessary for continuation of care
- Treating other clients and staff in a respectful manner
- Notifying their case manager of intention to discontinue services
- Refraining from bringing alcohol, drugs, or weapons onto agency property
- Arriving on time for appointments; or, if unable to keep an appointment, calling 24 hours in advance to cancel
- Complying with requirements of court-ordered treatment, if applicable

What does the assessment process involve?

When you come for your first appointment, a case manager will work with you to determine the focus of treatment based upon your presenting problems, strengths, needs, abilities, preferences, skills, and interests. The assessment of clinical/medical necessity and financial enrollment eligibility will also guide what types of care and services are available. You and your recovery team will develop an individual service plan that outlines the potential course of treatment/services, including your goals and identified steps for achieving them.

Child and Family Team services may include the following:

Initial assessment Therapeutic preschool

Case management Crisis services

In-home services Psychological testing

Residential treatment Inpatient services

Foster care Transportation

Psychiatric medication Laboratory tests

Individual, group, and Child and Family Team

family therapy* facilitation

*Child and family therapy services include individual, family, and group therapy. Therapists use a brief, solution-focused model that utilizes the child and family's strengths, teaches new skills, and promotes change in the child and family's life. Group therapy is often the intervention of choice, as it promotes positive change for children and their families while increasing their sense of belonging and providing social support and peer advice. Therapy referrals are initiated and reviewed by child and family teams to ensure the best treatment for each child and family.

Adult recovery services may include the following:

- Initial assessment
- Health promotion
- Case management
- Psychological testing
- Psychiatric medication
- Psychosocial rehabilitation
- Vocational rehabilitation
- Crisis stabilization
- Wellness & recovery groups
- Intensive outpatient treatment
- Residential treatment.

- Inpatient services
- In-home services
- Transportation
- Residential detoxification
- Laboratory tests
- Individual, group, and family therapy*
- Integrated mental health & substance abuse services
- Medication management

*Adult therapy services include individual, couples, family, and group therapy. Therapists work from a brief, solution-focused model that utilizes clients' strengths, teaches new skills, and promotes change in clients' lives. Group therapy is often the intervention of choice, as it has the potential to yield great personal change for clients while contributing to their sense of belonging and providing social support and peer advice. Therapy referrals require a formal procedure prompted by clinical teams to ensure the best treatment for each client.

Depending on the program, motivational incentives may be used to encourage treatment compliance.

Clients with a serious mental illness who do not qualify for AHCCCS will receive a reduced benefit that will include medication management and rehabilitation support services.

How are specific services identified and accessed by an individual?

The individual meets with his or her case manager to discuss available service options and which services are appropriate to meet the client's needs. Decisions are made within the context of a team process.

How will a case manager be assigned to me?

Individuals will be assigned a case manager as part of the intake process, after review of the following information:

- •Your treatment goals and needs
- •The most convenient times for you
- •Language or other special needs

Note, the person who meets with you for your intake appointment may not be assigned as your regular clinical liaison.

Will staff respect my cultural and language background?

It is the policy of La Frontera Center to provide services that are culturally competent and that are provided in the client's primary language. Persons with limited English proficiency have the right to receive language assistance services.

American Sign Language (ASL) and oral interpreter services are available upon request and at no charge to the client. Please request this service, if needed, when scheduling an appointment.

Vital documents are available in Spanish; additional documents will be translated into other languages, including Braille, upon request.

How long will I be in treatment?

If you are here for general mental health, substance abuse, or children's services, the length of time in treatment depends on your individual service plan, which you and your intake therapist create together at your first meeting. In general, counseling at La Frontera is short term and solution focused, with an emphasis on strengths-based treatment and family involvement. Discharge from treatment is incorporated into the treatment plan and generally occurs following attainment of treatment goals. Failure to comply with agreed-upon treatment activities may result in an administrative discharge, as allowed by agency policy.

If you have a serious mental illness you will receive ongoing treatment as described in your individual recovery plan, which you and your clinical liaison create together at the beginning of treatment. Failure to comply with agreed-upon treatment activities may result in an administrative discharge, as allowed by agency policy. You may also transfer to another provider, or request to be disenrolled from services

Will my family be involved in my services?

La Frontera believes that support in the form of "family" (as defined by the client) and significant others is extremely beneficial to the recovery from and the prevention of mental health and addiction disorders. Your support system will be encouraged to participate in services if you so choose. You will meet with your case manager to determine who is to be included.

How can I give feedback on the quality of services received?

La Frontera invites you to provide feedback regarding quality of care using client satisfaction surveys. Many sites also have a suggestion box located in the lobby. You are welcome to participate in advisory committees and/or periodic focus groups designed to help us improve our services. You may also contact the Customer Service Department at (520) 838-5558.

What is the standard of conduct for La Frontera employees?

All staff are expected to conduct themselves in a manner reflecting the highest professional and ethical standards at all times, per La Frontera policy #300.100. To review this policy, please contact the Customer Service Department at (520) 838-5558.

What is the procedure for making a complaint?

La Frontera has an established policy and procedure for handling client complaints, and clients should receive this information at the time of the first appointment. If you have not received this information, you can call the Customer Service Department at (520) 838-5558 for assistance. Customer Service staff are also available to address concerns and complaints regarding services provided by La Frontera staff and subcontractors. If you prefer to submit a written complaint, you may use La Frontera Center's client complaint form, which is available in client lobbies or by requesting a copy from agency staff.

What is the procedure for filing a grievance?

Adults who have been diagnosed with a serious mental illness and receive services from La Frontera Center may also use the advocacy service provided by the Community Partnership of Southern Arizona (CPSA) at (520) 325-4268 if they choose to file a grievance or appeal a decision. They may also call the Arizona Department of Health Services/Division of Licensing Services (DOLS) at (602) 364-2536. There is no requirement to go through La Frontera Center's system first.
